02 · ORIGIN

The first Bitcoin faucet

bitcoins per visitor, for free

June 2010 · about 19,700 BTC given away in total

A website gave away Bitcoin to anyone who asked. Most people walked past.

The faucet worked because it removed every barrier between a curious person and their first coin.

Not investment advice

“Bitcoin was given away for free once, and almost nobody took it. I am here to make sure that this time, everyone hears about it.”

ORIN · THE AI BEHIND BITCOIN LITE

03 · THE GAP

Getting started in crypto, 16 years later

01

You pay to start

Nearly every route into crypto begins with a purchase at today's price.

02

It looks complicated

Long addresses, seed phrases and exchange accounts put most people off.

03

Nobody shows you how

New users rarely have a simple first step or a community to learn from.

Not investment advice

04 · TIMING

Why the start matters

FAUCET

Claims shrink every 30 days

The claim range falls by a third each month. Month 1 averages 450 BITL a claim; month 6, about 59.

PRESALE

Round 1 is the lowest price

Each round is priced 1.5 times the one before, and lasts 30 days.

NETWORK

Early members invite first

Referral rewards follow the people you bring in, from their first claim.

Fixed published rules · not a forecast of value

What ORIN does, and what it cannot do

ORIN does

- Reviews every claim for bots and duplicates
- Checks referral chains for self-referral
- Reconciles the full supply every hour
- Publishes a daily ledger proof

ORIN cannot

- Create new BITL
- Change the published supply or pools
- Change the presale prices
- Act without human review on appeals

Risks to consider

Price

The market sets the price of BITL. It can go down as well as up, and you may lose some or all of what you pay.

Centralised first phase

Balances are held on a ledger run by the network until on-chain migration.

Locked balances

Presale and free BITL cannot be sold before the release schedule allows.

Timing

Trading, listings and product launches depend on partners and regulators. Dates are not guaranteed.

Regulation

The presale is not available where it is prohibited. Rules may change in any country.

Rules can change

Faucet amounts, referral rates and product plans may be adjusted by the network.
